1,800 Volunteers To Serve As Aides In Civil Defense

Ryan Expresses His Appreciation Over Overwhelming Response

More than 1,800 Freeport residents have volunteered to serve in various capacities of the Civil Defense organization, chairman Cyril C. Ryan announced today. He predicted that the total would be more than 2,000 when all the volunteers have been listed.

This was truly an overwhelming response on the part of Freeport's residents," Mr. Ryan added, "and the members of the committee wish to take this means of publicly notifying each and all who filled out their cards that they are deeply appreciative of this spontaneous response and wish to thank one and all. Great credit is due the teachers and pupils of all the Freeport schools whose splendid assistance make this excellent response possible.

"We urge any person who is willing to join Civil Defense activities to also get their names and qualifications on file.

"It is not our intention to unduly alarm our people or call upon them for unnecessary services. We do, however, wish to have an organization that will be able to function should the necessity arise."

Chairman Ryan announced that Mayor Robert L. Dossie has named Richard A. Hungerford as head of the Air Raid Wardens.

The Freeport Civil Defense Committee, appointed by Mayor Dossie, comprises Chairman Ryan, F. Gordon Edwards and Samuel D. Gerber, deputies; Dr. Benjamin Fink, medical; Milton Danziger, evacuation; Fire Chief Robert N. Kinsey, Police Chief Peter Elar, Walter J. Pope, engineers; William S. Hughes, schools; Hugh Erwin, communications; Frederick Porter, Jr., and Mr. Hungerford.

Mayor Dossie Cuts Tape for New Norman's Opening

It was a gala affair when veteran Freeport merchant, Norman Rupersmidt, officially opened his new Norman's Dress Shop at 53 South Main st., last Thursday morning by having Mayor Robert L. Dossie cut the tape across the front entrance. Many prominent citizens, including Joseph Goldblatt, president of the Freeport Chamber of Commerce; Village Trustee Cord Viebrock and Wallace H. Campbell, publisher of THE FREEPORTER and THE LEADER, attended the opening. Everett C. Farnham and attorneys Lester Baumann and Milton Fink, executives of the Freeport Properties, of which Norman's is the first new tenant, were also present to help launch this beautiful and modern Main street establishment.

Acts On Contention Of Delegation That Traffic is a Menace

Mayor Says Law Forbids Barring Trucks from Streets of Village

The Village Board at its meeting Monday night acted promptly on the pleas of spokesmen for a delegation of property owners from the Northwest section that steps be taken to curb speeding, especially by heavy trucks and trailers, through North Brookside ave., by voting to have full stop signs installed at practically every intersection of the street.

Mayor Robert L. Dossie assured the delegation that despite reports to the contrary, the Village Board would not press to have Brookside ave. taken over as a county road, though the village would be relieved of the cost of its maintenance by so doing. He promised that the remarks of those opposing such a step would be incorporated in the minutes of the meeting and forward to the proper Nassau County authorities.

The Mayor expressed the opinion that the county officials would not want to go contrary to the wishes of the people, though he explained that if the Nassau authorities in their desire to provide adequate north and south highways across the county, decided to do so, the Village Board could not prevent the taking over of the street for such a purpose.

After the open session, the Board meeting in executive session, on recommendation of Police Chief Peter Elar voted to have full stop signs installed at the following intersections of North Brookside ave.: Randall ave., North Bayview ave., Maxson ave., California ave., and Prince st., and also at Pennsylvania and California aves.

The matter was brought to a head by a communication from the Northwest Civic Association urging that an ordinance be adopted prohibiting commercial traffic on all residential streets in Freeport. Mayor Dossie explained that this would be impossible since this could be done only by a village having a population of 25,000 except when a street connected two parkways.

Howard Thompson told of the heavy commercial traffic on North Brookside avenue. He said a traffic officer was assigned to the area for a week during which the speeding was curbed, but insisted that as soon as he was taken away, conditions would return to normal.

A fashion show, given by the members of the Board, acquainted the new members not only with Councilettes, as she spends her fall styles but also with Miss hours "Around the Clock."

On the more serious side, the local projects of the year were chosen. There are to be the sewing of surgical dressings for the South Nassau Communities Hospital, and volunteer work at the hospital. Each Saturday, two or more girls will go there to assist in the non-technical work.

Social events are also planned for the year, with a square dance, on November 25, heading the list. Forty girls of high school age interested in joining the Councilettes can contact Bobbi Glasser, Freeport 9-2042, for information.

These girls must be registered at Smith and be prepared to take college board entrance examinations. Students have been chosen on the basis of scholarship ditions became as bad as ever. He said traffic was especially heavy from 7 to 9 P. M., and late in the afternoon. The area was zoned as "A.A." residential, he added, but the traffic situation made it anything but that. He advocated barring commercial traffic from the street.

It was then Mayor Dosssee explained that this was impossible and gave the reasons. Samuel Parker advocated installing stop signs, and Angelo Greenhouse appealed for action because of the menace of the heavy traffic to the children of the area. It was urged signs reading "This is a speed trap, Beware!" be installed along the street. Trailers loaded with coal are being operated through the street around 2 and 3 A. M. it was said.
Lester Gullit said heavy gasoline trailer-trucks were operated through the street and Victor Sandak, resident of North Brookside avenue as "Death avenue."

After the Mayor had explained trucks could not be barred from the street, the matter of the county taking over the street was taken up. Several speakers expressed fear that if this was done, the pavement would be improved and speeding increased. When pressed to take a stand on the matter Mayor Dosssee asserted every unit of government was sympathetic to the problems of the people. He promised that a transcript of the minutes would be turned over to the county authorities, with the announcement that the people of the area were unalterably opposed to having Brookside ave. made a county road, and he added this administration must back up the people of the area.

It finally was decided that the best way to discourage speeding and the use of the street by commercial vehicles would be by the use of full stop signs. Chief Elar was asked to indicate the intersections at which these signs should be erected, and his recommendations were adopted.

Besides the speakers named, the following took part in the discussion: Henry Citron, J. Everett Kunzmann, Mrs. Doris Berger, Mrs. Estelle Cohen and VanBaar Brown, president of the Northwest Civic Association.

Fathers' and Boosters' Club Starts Its Year's Activities

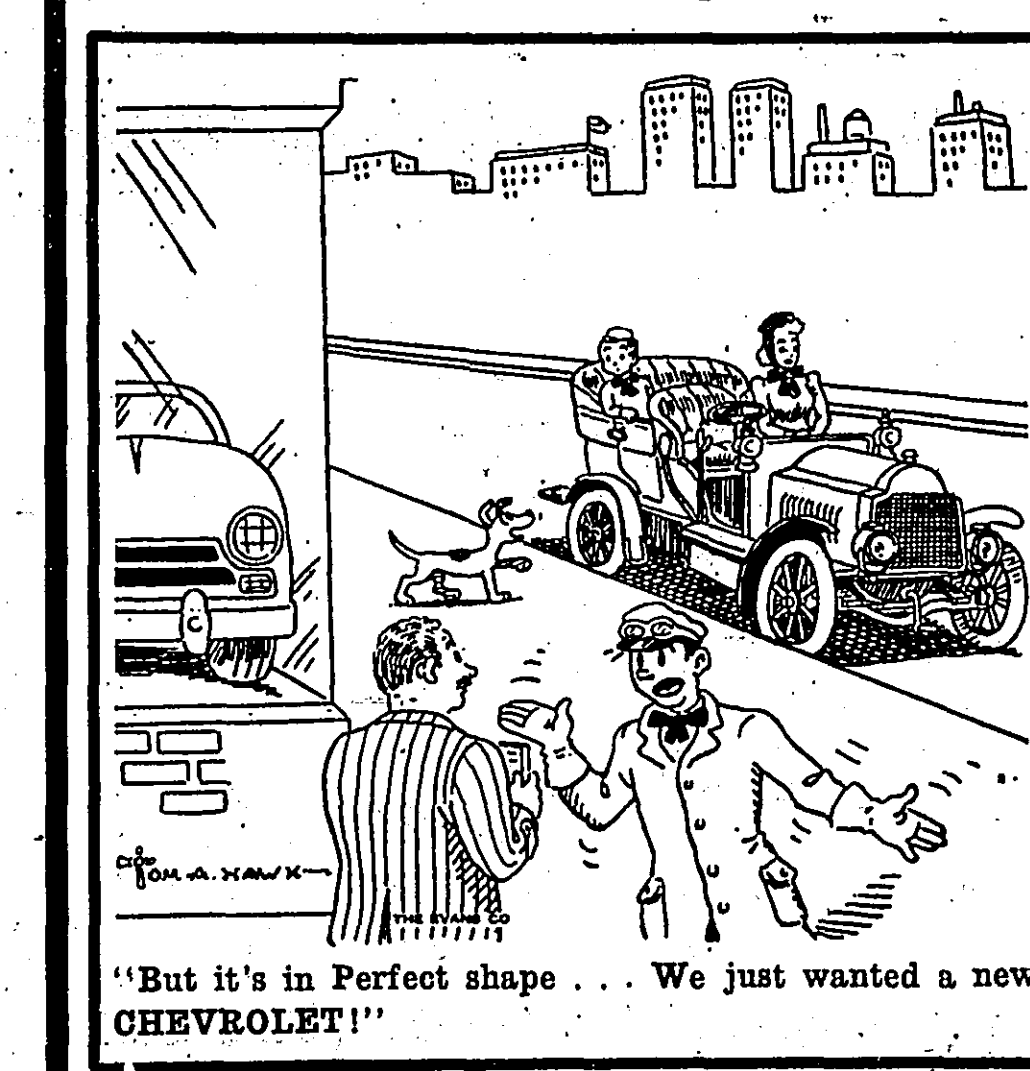

The Fathers' and Boosters' Club of the Freeport Schools has entered another year with the opening of the football season. As has been the practice for several years it published the football programs which are on sale at each of the home games played by the Red Devils. At the close of the grid season it will honor the members of the squad at some sort of event and present sportsmanship awards to a member each of the varsity and jay-vee teams.
Then will come the basketball season and the baseball season with recognition for other athletic teams, the cheer leaders and the band.

The club was dreamed up during the late summer of 1946 by Ted Dobbins, Bill Ashley, head coach of the football squad, and Kenneth Lozier, Soon Sheriff H. Alfred Vollmer, Arthur Olsen, Charles Kremmel, William McKenna and others joined in the movement. They announced that the prime purpose of the club would be to stimulate interest in school sports, to promote sportsmanship and reward deserving teams and individuals. The ultimate goal as announced is to make it possible for every boy and girl in school to join in competitive sports.

Mr. Dobbins was elected the first president and remained in office for two years during the formative period of the organization. He was followed by Mr. Lozier under whose administration the commencement awards were instituted. The present executive is Mr. McKenna.
The club was instrumental in starting Lacrosse as a school sport at Freeport High. Under the coach-

Unitarians to Form South Nassau Church

The first steps looking toward the organization of a Unitarian Church for South Nassau County were taken Sunday, Sept. 24, when a score of families met in Baldwin to plan a campaign here in line with nation wide Unitarian advance.

Sunday services will begin Oct. 22 at a place to be announced, and classes in religious education will be held simultaneously. The only other Unitarian church in Nassau County is in Port Washington.

F.H.S. Offers Course On "Youth Problems"

A course, "Youth Problems," is being offered at Freeport High School, Principal Martin M. Mansberger announced this week. The purpose of this elective approved by Senior Guidance Advisor C. Overton Tremper, and taught by Irving B. Franklin of the English Department, and Randall Powell of the Social Studies Department, is to give more students a more practical working philosophy of life.

Instruction is being given in general community life, government and home life. Problems of education, religion, population, health and other such difficulties which arise in each of these walks of life, are discussed. Remedies, found where they can be, are taught. Another important phase is teaching the students how to read a newspaper properly. Current news dealing with Americanism helps to make the problems more vivid.

This course is offered in cooperation with other high schools in the state as a part of the "Life Adjustment" program sponsored by the state education department.

Scanning The Sports Scene

By DICK SCHAAF

The big news of last Saturday's football encounters is the amazing upset triumph for Farmingdale over South Side after 44 games without South Side tasting defeat. The Dalers were severely trounced 40-0 by Mephm in their opener.

DICK SCHAAF

Charlie Finger, flashy Farmingdale field general, sparked the Dalers to their convincing win over the Cyclones 15-7. Finger tallied once, set up the second touchdown and booted the extra point for Farmingdale.

Mephm's Bucs established themselves as definite threats for the Nassau County title by virtue of their cleanout 13-0 victory over Sewanhaka. The powerful Mephm front wall, consisting of Nickla, Henery, Harrell, Bury, Thomas and Tolo, constantly drove the Indians back.

Freeport's home opener, climaxing the Fathers and Boosters' Club's football week, found the Red Devils gaining a surprisingly easy win over the Flyers of Chaminade. Skip Ullip, currently leading Nassau County in scoring hit paydirt twice to raise his point aggregate to 26.

Jerry Simandl, replacing the injured Marshall Rivers in the Red Devil lineup, played a hard-driving game and tallied on a pass from Ullip. George Kandiloros, primarily a Jayvee end last year, sparked as a defensive halfback against the Flyers. Kandiloros intercepted two passes in the second half to cut off Chaminade threats. The line of Waszmer, Harris, Jones, Kenney, Bandhold, Muro, Cardinale and Malinowski was successful in stopping the highly regarded Chaminade speed merchants.

Baldwin's Golden Wave, behind the wizardry of Dick Grotz, toppled the defending Nassau County titlists Glen Cove 13-6. In doing so, the Golden Wave shackled the sensational Cover scabbard George Spellman and held him scoreless.

Grotz, passing and running with equal agility, accounted for the initial six-point and was instrumental in setting up the final score. Charlie Freeman tallied the last marker from his tailback post.

Pigskin Plets The second week of scholastic play saw up predicting nine correct winners and missing out on four for a percentage of 69.2. We now have 14 right and 7 wrong for a respectable .667 average. In the top game of the coming program, we pick Hempstead to upset Mephm in a battle of forward walls. The Sewanhaka game may have taken a lot out of the Bucs. We figure Baldwin over Lawrence by six points. Look for Glen Cove to bounce back with a vengeance over Chaminade. East Rockaway should gain its initial win over the hapless Lynbrook Owls. We pick Westbury over Farmingdale despite the Daler win over South Side. South Side should regain the winning trail against Garden City. We see Minola gaining its first triumph over Great Neck. We'll take Long Beach over Woodmere by six points. In the others games, we like: Roslyn over Malverne, Manhasset over Port Washington and Sewanhaka over St. Francis.

Contest News Congratulations to the lucky winner and everybody should continue to send in their entries to be eligible for the grand prize.

Alumni Jottings Jack Plunket and Carl Simone, former Freeport High aces, have nailed down first string berths on the Hofstra frosh squad that battled to a 0-0 deadlock in its initial outing. Al Kahanowich, ex-Hempstead all-scholastic, has been dropped from the Nortre Dame squad due to academic deficiencies. Bob Langan saw defensive action with a hard-fighting Colgate eleven that held power Army to a 2-0 margin. Howard Hansen of Rockville Centre garnered a pair of six-pointers to pace Columbia's easy win over little Hobart while Joe Malone of Baldwin headed the cahrging Lion front defense.

NEW YORK STATE GETS ITS 5 Millionth Bell Telephone

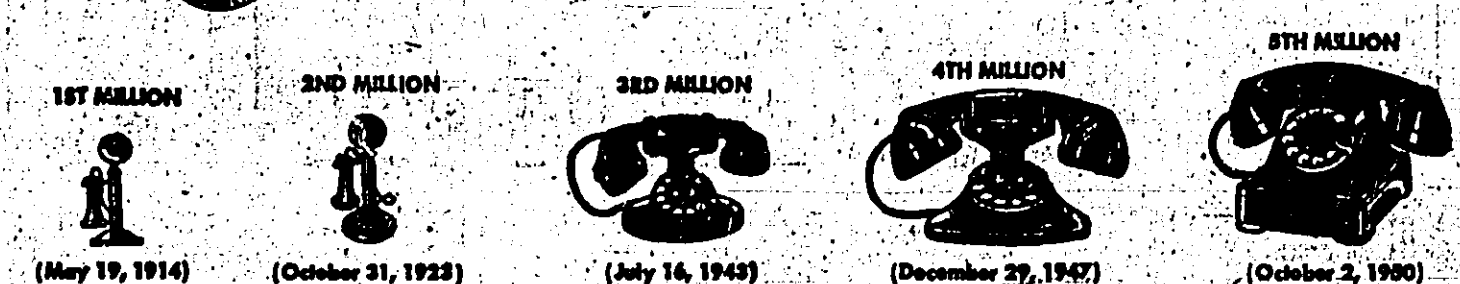

The five millionth Bell telephone in this State was installed this week in the home of a young couple in The Bronx. Five million is a lot of telephones, but all of them—and more—are needed to keep pace with New York's growth in population, business and industry.

It has been a big job. Since 1941 our $845,000,000 construction program has resulted in a 60% increase in plant and facilities. Times like these emphasize the importance of this work and the value to the entire State of a telephone company that is financially healthy and strong enough to do the job well.

There is still more to be done, for there still are people waiting for telephones. We are building new telephone plant at the rate of half a million dollars every working day to meet these and future demands for service. Even as the first call was being made on the five millionth telephone, installers were busy putting in still more phones in homes and industries throughout the Empire State.

Health Association Opens Drive Against Rheumatic Fever for Fall

The fall program of the Nassau County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association's fight against Rheumatic Fever, the No. 1 killer and crippler of children, is in full swing.

This month children from 4 school districts attended the Cardiac Consultation Service at Meadowbrook Hospital. This program, which was inaugurated three years ago starting in Freeport by the Nassau County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association is functioning in 30 school districts in Nassau County. It provides children in the participating districts the opportunity for complete diagnosis for Rheumatic Fever and other heart conditions.

The smooth operation of this program involves cooperative efforts of school personnel, community volunteers, Nassau County Health Department and other community agencies. The school physicians and nurses, in cooperation with the family physicians, select children who are to be examined at the Cardiac Consultation Service at Meadowbrook Hospital. The classroom teachers, because of their opportunity to observe the children, may refer any pupils with deviations from normal health to the school nurse-teacher.

Each school district participating in the program is allotted a special time at the Cardiac Consultation Service for all the children referred from that district. The school nurse-teachers arrange for the appointments through the Nassau County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association. Reports of the findings are sent to the school physicians and to the family physicians. If a child is to be kept in bed at home, the Public Health Nurse works cooperatively with the family physician and is ready to give assistance to the child and family for as long as is necessary. Local committees of volunteers have been set up in each district to assist this program.

Freeport Red Cross Calls for Volunteers

Mrs. Herbert E. Bytelle, enlistment chairman, issued a plea for volunteers to serve as Gray Ladies, motor corps members, staff aides and home service helpers as well as in arts and skills at the monthly meeting of the Freeport Red Cross Branch in the home of the chairman Mrs. Leon N. Swisher, 18 Maryland ave., Monday. She announced that any willing to serve might telephone her at FR-0166-J.

Mrs. Albert E. Hammond, campaign chairman, reported service with her group at Northport on July 13, Aug. 4 and 24 and at Mitchell Field on Sept. 11.

The resignation of Mrs. Howard MacDougall as chairman of Junior Red Cross, was accepted with regret.

Register, Every Citizen Register

Perhaps never in the history of the country has an election loomed more important than that which is to be held on Thursday, Nov. 7. On that date an entire new Congress will be elected, and the electors of the country must then decide which party, the Democrats or Republicans, shall be in power during the next two years.

These are serious times with no one knowing what the future has in store for the United States and the World. Consequently it behooves every person of voting age to assume his responsibility as a citizen by going to the polls on Nov. 7 and voting for the candidates he or she believes most capable of guiding the ship of state through the troubled waters to a safe haven. In the past millions of Americans have failed to exercise their privileges and prerogatives as citizens by remaining away from the polls on Election Day.

This is no time for slackers to cast the burden of electing candidates on others. A record number of voters should go to the polls on November 7.

But before they can do so all must register. In Freeport there are to be four Registration Days—Tomorrow and Saturday and Friday and Saturday of next week. However, the thing to do is to register either tomorrow or Saturday and not wait until the last moment when something may prevent you from going to the polling place to qualify to vote in November. Some who are perfectly well this week may be taken ill and confined to their home before Friday of next week arrives.

And further, Thursday, October 12, is Columbus Day and some people may be fortunate to get a holiday week-end off, and an opportunity to go out of town to enjoy the wonderful October weather. That is another reason for registering this week.

The polls will be open tomorrow, Saturday and the following Friday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and the final day, Saturday, October 14, from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Should Honor Korean Casualties

The War in Korea has been brought home to Freeport through the casualty lists. Already the names of three residents of this community have appeared on these lists, one killed in action, another missing in action and the third slightly wounded.

Something should be done in recognition of these casualties. As the Korean hostilities probably will not be continued a great deal longer unless they bring on a World War through the entry of the Chinese Communists into the conflict or Russia starts something in Europe, it might be well to make some provision for the inclusion of the names of victims on the war on the Honor Roll of World War II on the Freeport Memorial Library lawn.

Certainly the price paid by the three men to date, even if there are no more Freeport casualties, should not go unnoticed.

Towns Teens

By FRANCES PRATT

Last week-end Freeport wrote another mark in the win column with the spectacular defeat of Chaminade by the score of 20-6. Congratulations go to GEORGE KANDALORIS who really saved the game for Freeport with his recovery of Chaminade's fumbles. JERRY SIMANDL and "SKIP" ULEP scored the touchdowns while TONY PRIMAVERA kicked for the point two out of three times. Congratulations to the whole team, it was a grand game!

This was the first home game and gave the new cheerleaders - MARY DODD, RUTH PENNEMA, SALLY HANSEN, ROSSANN CLEARAY, PERRY SMITH, and GRACE JESCH, a chance to make their debut in grand style. As usual, the band gave an excellent performance.

The cross-country meet on Friday saw Freeport walking off with honors this year. DAVE MOORE, JIM BURKE and Capt. BOB YARROW both scored points for Freeport.

OCTOBER 21—that's a date not to forget 'The Witches' Querle', the first G. O. Dance of the year will be held on that date. It's a Sadie Hawkins dance, gals so make your plans to attend.

The entries in The Leader's Football Contest are falling off. This week's winner is F. H. S. senior JOAN CAMERON. The prize's are waiting so get your entries in the mail early this week!

NEWS AND VIEWS OF F. H. S.
It seems that the whole football team and several members of the Senior class attended the Mepham-Sewannaka game. And believe me that was quite a contest with Mepham winning 14-0. ANY SHORT now that was quite a game. The big event of the week-end was the after game party at CYNTHIA NIXON'S. Two new couples are BOB YARROW and RONNIE MINSON; RONNIE REESE and GINGER MERRITT—Uncle Sam has taken JOY SIEGEL'S Mel.

That's it for this time—See You Around.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

By EDDIE VASIL

"The faintest ink is better than the most retentive mind."

THOUGHTS WHILE SHAVING . . . By strange coincidence, MEADOW BROOK NATIONAL BANK (Freeport) has two well-named charming women who handle cash. One named ALICE MONETT (this means money many languages), and the other named DOROTHY BUCK. DE WADMAN'S now a grand old time. The charming FLORENCE VALENTINE (seen on the night-club scene with BOB (insurance) VON ELMA) will be off for a winter in Bermuda in three weeks . . . Promising to be one of the most up-and-coming organizations: SEAMAN AVE. DAD'S CLUB. This is headed by BILL FISCHER and sports such names as legal eagle PAUL KELLY, CHARLIE (music man) JUDGE, Wesley house exec. HARRY RURNELL, atty. LES BAUMANN, ex-Mayor and Nassau Transit Comm. CYRIL C. RYAN, and many other prominent localities . . .

LEND AN EAR—tomorrow, and every Friday and Saturday thereafter GLADYS POWELL, the girl of 1001 melodies, who's a wizard in music, will be featured at DAVE SHAPIRO'S SHORECREST HOTEL. . . Don't throw away your old clothes! MR. CHRISTOPOULOS (a real Greek name) is collecting throw-away garments for unfortunates in Greece . . . Drop off your cast-away at his NASSAU SHOE REPAIR 51 West Sunrise Highway and you'll be helping some poor needy war victim . . . Congratulations to FRANK MAHER of the PORT BAR and GRILL on South Main who's celebrating his 101st anniversary . . . That popular and handsome blond who resembles DANNY KAYS is non-other than OLLIE TAYLOR who's one of the best mixologists in the business . . . At Half Mast; condolences to Freight Police LT. AUGUST UREISS whose mother passed away in her 85th year. (they live at 14 Gill Ave.)

COMES THE DAWN . . . Happy day, Freeport Repub. Club took the lead in the GOP picture when the women packed South Shore Yacht Club for their season opener. (praises to MRS. MARLE REINER and her committee ringing all the way to Albany) . . . ATTY. PAUL KELLY back on the home-front after his extended business trip covering the four corners of N. Y. the met. Freeporters in Buffalo and Syracuse) . . . Be on your watch 'cause one of the female mag sales-subscription getters is a phony. Check credentials and call the DA . . . O'SHAUGHNESSY'S OLD TAVERN has a bar-tender who can mix a pousse-cafe using 14 liqueurs (This is quite a trick) His name is HANS ENSTADT . . . Put this on your must list: the talented and charming CECILIA CONNOR who's well-known as a top pianist around these parts, will appear in a Garden City Cathedral Concert Nov. 3rd.

MAKING THE ROUNDS . . . If you want something special on the oriental side pay a visit to the CAFE CONTINENTAL in Long Beach. It's run by a lovely lady named VIOLA JOHNSON who spent years in the Orient and the Near East to learn authentic cuisine . . . BONNIE FREY (Gay Lombardo's niece and cashier at the East End House) received a card intended for her March 8th birthday. (the card was 7 months late because the sender just wrote FREEPORT, so the card made the rounds of four other burbs in the U. S. with this name before it finally ended in Long Island) . . . Wish we had orchids for men because JIM O'KEEFE (he's the doorman and a former vaudeville head-liner) of the FREEPORT CENTURY THEATRE certainly deserves one for his wonderful personality and friendly attitude in welcoming patrons: (Bill Applegate, please take notice).

DID YOU KNOW . . . Genial JIM BOULOUKOS, (he's one of the largest independent wholesale ice-cream manufacturers) has been honored to represent the industry in Nassau County Health Department's new educational program. This man Jim is amazing because his friends are legion and his generosity though unheralded, is known far and wide . . . C. MILTON FOREMAN has been and is a member of the Freeport Vamps for years and years. He was one of the organizers of the FFD Hook and Ladder Co. . . RAY MILLER'S building on South Grove, (now the home of Watson's Creative Mailing and the Long Island Lighting) served as headquarters for the World War II Draft Board, and many young future servicemen will go there for draft information. (check authenticity of the statement with Bill Watson).

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Stranger than fiction department: PETE PEREZ of the Post Office in Freeport recently went fishing. He caught something, but it wasn't a fish; it was a sea gull. . . FRANK and KAY IUS, they own the LANDMARK SPA on corner of West Seaman and North Main, should be very proud. Their daughter, Patricia, although only twenty, has one of the most wonderful mezzo-soprano voices in the ranks of future singing stars. Daughter Audrey, however, is a rare fisherman. She caught a Garfish off South Main St. which is a tropical fish and very seldom seen in these waters. . . I'm saving Oct. 27th for an open date to catch this year's Freeport Community Choral presentation, THE MIKADO, at FHS auditorium. Best Luck to Bob Travis Jr., who always does a grand job anyway.

FROM MY NOTEBOOK . . . DON G. WELLER was appointed vice-chairman for Civil Defense in Merrick by D. Vincent Wroder (head exec.). Don is in charge of Public Relations at the Meadow Brook National Bank. (credit Mr. Wroder with wise choice). Sorry to miss the Old Fashion Get-together given by Engine Co. No. 1, Freeport Fire-Dept., Sept. 20, 1950. Understand they had a grand time . . . Ditto the FFD fair-well party for Patrolman JACK DONAHUE who left for the Marines . . . From what we hear JACK (the music man) KAHN, has not played Lohengrin yet . . . HERMAN WEDEL launched another season at his famous SOUTH SHORE TERRACE with Bill Verbout and Jimmy Freda doing business at the same old stand. (Herman rates tops with the press because he rates the press tops, and this is a Long Island rendezvous for not only local columnists but also for the New York-bigs boys).

FOOD FOR THOUGHT . . . (submitted by Judge Hilbert R. Johnson)

She has invited everyone to bring in their white elephants, anything from used but good clothing to Aunt Hepzibah's wedding gift, that one for which we never found just the right dark corner. Mrs. Connor, who has purchasers for the most unlikely what-nots, buys merchandise outright or takes it on consignment.

Brides will be interested to note that here is an excellent place to unload those duplicates. In fact, vivacious Ann Connor points out that several of the prettiest pieces of china for sale in her shop are someone's unwanted wedding gifts. Among the many collector's items one will find on tour of the Opportunity Shop are ivory handled, hand painted French fans and an old album containing some really fine photographs as well as a photograph of Tom Thumb as a baby, pictured with his miniature father and mother.

1,418 Killed In 1949 Grade Crashes, Hagan Reveals In Urging Caution

A narrow four-foot, eight-inch path spelled death for 1,418 persons in 1949, Capt. J. Melvin Hagan, chairman of the Freeport Safety Council, said today in connection with its current program of traffic safety education.

"Last year," the captain added, "that was the number of people killed in the comparatively simple process of crossing the less-than-five-foot span between railroad tracks."

Capt. Hagan pointed out that these fatalities were the end-product of 3209 encounters between trains and automobiles.

Inattention, recklessness, and disregard of warning signals and signs were cited by the National Safety Council, Capt. Hagan said, as the leading causes of these highway-rail intersection accidents.

In spite of the fact that ALL highway-rail intersections are marked by the familiar white cross buck, Capt. Hagan said, and that all but a very few crossings are further marked by the round, white approach sign, drivers continue to trust to luck rather than their eyes.

It is a never-ending source of amusement to traffic safety authorities that so many people manage to get hit by trains in the first place. Compared to the number of road-intersections in the country, the number of highway-rail intersections is infinitesimal. In addition, and in contrast to many road and street intersections—all such
